STORE WINTER SUPPLIES.

Fruits and Vegetables Required During the Nongrowing Season.

A family of five, including two adults and three children under 12 years of age, under ordinary living conditions, should have stored for each month of the winter season, the following food supplies: 1 bushel of Irish potatoes; 1/2 bushel of other root vegetables such as carrots, turnips, and parsnips; 25 quarts of other vegetables; and 20 quarts of canned fruit and preserves. These figures are based on estimates by the United States department of agriculture, which adds that most of this should come from the perishable products of the many home gardens of this year.

With these figures as a basis, it is thought that almost any family may calculate its requirements, taking into consideration the length of the winter season in any given locality. Thus, in the South, where food crops may be grown in the fall, the winter allowance may be less than for the far North, where one must count on supplies for several months longer.

There is still time, says the department, for a final drive in canning, preserving, and drying. In using dried vegetables, it may be assumed that a given quantity of dried vegetables is equal to four times its bulk of canned vegetables; that is, one-fourth of a quart of dry string beans when soaked overnight is approximately equal to one quart canned.

CONSTIPATION IS A PENALTY OF AGE

Nothing is so essential to health in advancing age as freedom and normal activity of the bowels. It makes one feel younger and fresher, and forestalls colds, piles, fevers, and other dependent ills.

Cathartics and purgatives are violent and drastic in action and should be avoided. A mild, effective laxative, recommended by physicians and thousands who have used it, is far preferable. This is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin sold by droggists under the name of Dr. Cassell's Syrup Pepsin. It costs only fifty cents a bottle; a trial bottle, free of charge, can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 456 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

NORWICH UNIVERSITY

Formal Opening Is to Take Place Tuesday, Sept. 18.

Norwich university, the military college of the state of Vermont, begins its 99th year next week Tuesday, the 18th.

Entrance examinations will begin at 9 o'clock in the morning. The afternoon will be devoted to registration and assignment to quarters and troops, with retreat at 8 o'clock, at which all students will report for the beginning of actual duty. Classes for academic work will be arranged Wednesday morning. The opening exercises will be held in Dewey hall at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, to which the friends of the university and the general public are cordially invited.

His excellency, Governor Horace F. Graham, will be present and give the principal address. He will bring his staff with him, consisting of Adjutant General Lee S. Tillotson, Colonel Johnson, Major Cushing, Major George E. Carpenter. In addition to these, the governor will bring with him the commissioned officers of the 1st Vermont volunteer militia (home guards), who received their training at Norwich, meaning those who graduated, or received part of their education there.

Other state officials and prominent people, including Captain George Byrrode (recently retired), recently detailed as professor of military science and tactics at Norwich, will be present and take part in the exercises.

Scholarship and military honors and medals for last year, which have not been awarded, as all commencement exercises were omitted last June, will be announced, and honorary degrees will be conferred at this time.

It is expected that Colonel Ira L. Reeves, president, who is now on indefinite leave, will have charge of the exercises. In case he is unable to get away from his official duties in Washington, Hon. Frank Plumley, vice-president of the university corporation, will act as presiding officer.

A large number of upper classmen will not be in attendance at the college this year, owing to their being in the service. A large entering class is assured, and all college activities, including the football schedule, will be carried along as usual.

In the absence of Colonel Reeves, the administrative duties of the university will be performed by Dean H. R. Roberts, who has been actively connected with the college for many years.

It is very much desired that those interested in the work which is being carried on at Norwich university should turn out in large numbers. With the governor and staff here, besides other state officials, this should be made a gala occasion.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

"Nothing But the Truth" Had Successful Run in New York.

Next Tuesday, Sept. 18, we will have at the opera house this last word in farces, fresh from a long and successful run in New York City, where it is said to have pulled the laughter market and paid the amusement seeker the largest dividends in mirth ever known. It is based upon the unique idea of offering the hero of the story, as a titler of nothing but the truth. Falsehood often gets a man into serious difficulty, but in this case, James Montgomery has rather reversed the idea, for he hitches his hero to the chariot of truth, and by so doing involves not only that hero, but also his friends and business associates in a maze of complications that upsets business affairs and snarls up domestic relations.

But all this is done in a most amusing way, for, do not be misled—there is not a serious moment in the two hours and a half given over to showing the resultant effects of confining oneself to "Nothing But the Truth." This farce will be seen here for the first time as above noted. And it comes fresh from a whole year's stay at the Longacre theatre in New York. Certainly this should commend it to our local theatre patrons for blame New Yorkers do not require twelve months in which to size up the qualities of a play, and this one not only withstood that length of test but came out of it with assurance to Anderson & Weber, who exploit it, that they had given the stage a real enjoyable, sure enough farcial play that could be said to have attained that always sought after status on the stage—success—adv.

Kreiser Coming to Montpelier.

Announcement is made to-day of the forthcoming appearance in Montpelier of two of the world's greatest musicians, Fritz Kreiser and Reinhold Warlich. They will be heard in a joint recital at the city hall on Wednesday evening, Sept. 26. The artistic kinship between Kreiser and Warlich is one of the most unique in the annals of music in America. Kreiser is a many-sided artist and like the truly great in the world of music he seeks to express himself in many channels. The greatest violinist in the world, he is also one of the great pianists, and it is in this latter role that he will be heard in Montpelier. The famous Russian baritone, Warlich, is the intimate friend of Kreiser and the recitals that the two give together, with Kreiser at the piano, have brought forth from the most discerning critics praise of the highest kind. They have given their recitals in all the larger cities of the country, and returned late in the summer from a tour to California. Mr. Kreiser will not only play the piano accompaniments for Mr. Warlich, but will also appear as piano soloist among his numbers being a group of his own arrangements of old Viennese melodies and dances. The program will be announced shortly—adv.

BEEF PRICES STRONGER

Average Tops Bring 11@12c at Brighton Market.

Brighton, Mass., Sept. 12.—Beef prices showed a little more strength yesterday, but other Brighton stockyard prices were about the same as noted a week ago. Hog prices were firm at the recent top level.

The best pair of cattle seen at the yards yesterday morning was brought in by Drover Brooks. They came from the Portsmouth fair, where they were prize winners. They weighed 3,200 pounds and sold at the top prices of the day. Light cattle sold at 7@8c, good cattle at 9@10c, average tops at 11@12c, and fancy cattle at 12 1/2c and upward.

Some fancy cows and heifers brought 9c, with an occasional animal figured a fraction higher. Average tops sold at 7@8c, good cows at 5 1/2@6 1/2c, ordinary cows at 4 1/2@5c, and canner cows at 4@4 1/2c.

Fancy bulls were very scarce and 7c was about the top price of the day, the range being about 5@7c, with bologna bulls at 4 1/2@5c.

Very few very firm, with a good demand, this being due, the marketmen say, to the prevailing high prices for pork loins. Bunch lots of fancy calves sold at 12@13c, with some small lots selling at 14@15c. Fair lots brought 10@12c and grassers and drinkers 7@9c.

Sheep and lambs continued in fair supply, sales being made yesterday at 8@10c for sheep and 12@14c for lambs.

Hogs were firm at last week's quotations for tops, though prices are taking a wider range, owing to the unfinished character and the unusual shrinkage of a large part of the arrivals. Tops sold at 18@18 1/2c, with rough lots at 16 1/2@17c.

Drovers report a moderate demand for fancy milch cows, and an occasional cow will bring $150 or better. From this the range of prices runs down to $50@60, the lower figure being for ordinary milkers.

Dressed hogs are quoted the same as a week ago, the packers still asking 23@23 1/2c.
